HDLI Membership Application

What is HDLI?

The Housing and Development Law Institute (HDLI) is a nationwide non-profit membership organization that serves as a legal resource for stakeholders in the affordable and public housing industry. HDLI devotes all of its efforts to addressing this specialized legal environment. HDLI is an organization for housing professionals and their legal counsel.

What Resources Does HDLI Offer?

HDLI offers regular Continuing Legal Education (CLE) conferences, on-site and virtual training seminars, periodic publications available only to members, form documents and sample policies, legal counseling and assistance, amicus curiae appearances, and an active electronic list serve. HDLI also acts on a national level to influence the development of statutory, regulatory and case law helpful to industry stakeholders.

HDLI Publications

HDLI's Quarterly Review

A one-stop resource for busy HDLI members to stay abreast of recent industry happenings from the preceding quarter. Provides a compilation of important court decisions affecting public housing agencies, HUD notices, and HUD proposed and final rules. Includes links to access cases, HUD content, and other helpful resources online.

Index to HUD Regulations

Features the only existing comprehensive index to HUD's Title 24 regulations, by subject matter and acronym. Updated annually and provided to members in searchable electronic format.

HDLI List Serve

HDLI has a wonderfully effective communication tool: the HDLI List Serve. It's easy and free to members. Via e-mail, List Serve members can instantly post questions or concerns relating to housing finance, management, Section 8, or any other issue of interest, to other List Serve members, and can get instant responses. Or, members simply monitor the exchange of information and perspectives at their leisure.

Amicus Curiae Appearances

HDLI assists its members by appearing as amicus in appropriate legal cases, subject to approval by HDLI's Board of Directors. Notably, HDLI was amicus to the United States Supreme Court in Virginia v. Hicks and HUD v. Rucker.

Legal Education Conferences

HDLI holds regular Continuing Legal Education conferences addressing pressing legal topics relevant to housing agencies, hosted in-person or virtually. At each conference, HDLI assembles prominent speakers and provides detailed resource materials. Annual HDLI conferences include the General Counsel Forum, Spring Conference, Commissioners and E.D. Conference, and Fall Conference. HDLI members receive significant discounts on all conference registration fees.

Legal Consultation

HDLI is available to help housing officials and their legal counsel in a consultative capacity, as well as putting members in touch with other members, housing officials, or government representatives who can help resolve their issues.
